1984/2007 Historic Properties Inventory Details 131 West Main Street (circa 1900, contributing). This one-story brick building has a paneled parapet containing a pair of cast-iron ventilator grilles. It originally possessed a two-bay storefront; its façade currently has aluminum and glass elements and a canopy.

Proposed Alteration, Renovation or Addition

The following exterior alterations are proposed for the structure listed above. See the application included as Attachment A for applicant's description of each element.

1. Restore entry to basement through the rear façade using previously closed access. Alteration includes stairs and stairwell.
2. Installation of replacement shutters on the two rear main floor windows in the rear façade. Shutters will be installed on existing or replica hinges. Shutters will be installed in closed position over the existing bricked-in openings.

Additional interior renovations are listed on the application. Interior alterations are not subject to review by the Historic Preservation Commission.

PLANNING STAFF EVALUATION

Reviewed by: Joel T. Duke, AICP

Site Visits Conducted: September 17, 2009

Recommendation: Recommend approval of requested doorway and stairwell. Recommend making improvements that re-open or give the appearance of window openings in the rear façade.

Staff Evaluation:

The requested alterations were reviewed against the standards contained in the Prattville Commercial Design Review Guidelines Manual. The relevant sections of manual are included. Staff comments/evaluations follow the relevant sections.

Item 1 – Restore entry to basement through the rear façade using previously closed access. Alteration includes stairs and stairwell.

Doors and Entrances (page 18)

Doors are often buildings' central visual elements, so are particularly important features. Historic entrances and doors should be retained, visible, maintained, and, if needed, repaired. Missing or severely deteriorated doors should be replaced with historically appropriate doors. Screen, storm, and security doors should not detract from the historic appearance of their building.

1. Historic doors should be retained and maintained.
5. Owners are encouraged to replace missing or severely damaged historic doors with new doors that replicate the originals or other historic examples.
6. Clear-glass single-light painted wood doors with or without paneling are most appropriate for replacing primary doors in the district's commercial buildings. The opening in secondary entrances may be smaller or doors may be solid wood. Dark or bronze-anodized metal, though less appropriate, may be substituted for wood.
9. Security doors may be used on doors not visible from the street.

Staff Comment:

The proposed renovation will install an entrance to the building's basement. Prior to construction of the Corps' of Engineers flood control project along Autauga Creek, many of the buildings on the south side of West Main Street had full rear access to their basements. The 1930's flood control project elevated the creek bank and the adjacent grade; thereby eliminating or restricting access to the basements. All original doors, including 131 West Main have been removed or altered to create a much shorter crawlspace access. Access to 131 West Main's basement will be restored by construction of a stairwell to the original doorway. The original doorway will be framed in to accommodate a 36" wooden door of half glass and half panel. The door will be centered in the original opening with the remainder of the space filled with 6" clapboard siding.

Item 2 – Installation of replacement shutters on the two rear main floor windows openings. Shutters will be installed on existing or replica hinges. Shutters will be installed in closed position over the existing bricked-in window openings. Proposed shutters will be constructed from Trex or similar composite material.

Windows are prominent building components. They help to establish the rhythm of a building or streetscape. Sometimes, particularly in industrial buildings, they are the dominant visual element of a building exterior. Historic windows should be retained, visible, maintained, and, if needed, repaired.

1. Historic windows should be retained and maintained.
2. Historic windows should remain visible and their openings transparent.
3. Deteriorated or damaged windows should be repaired so that the windows retain their historic appearances. Epoxy is helpful in strengthening and replacing deteriorated wood.
4. Missing windows or elements should be replaced so that they replicate the historic windows or other historic examples.
5. Replacement windows should be of wood to match the original. The use of vinyl or aluminum clad windows may also be appropriate if they match the original window.
6. Historic shutters should be retained and maintained.
7. Shutters should not be added unless the building historically had them and replacements replicate historic shutters, fit the window opening when closed, and are constructed of painted wood.

Staff Comment:

The rear of 131 West Main Street once had two main floor windows. At some point in the building's life, these windows were bricked-in. According to the petitioner, the original shutters for the two windows were solid metal plates. Some of the metal hinges for the shutters are still present at the edge of the window openings, but the shutters are missing. The petitioner proposes to add new shutters fabricated to fit the two openings. The shutters would be installed in the closed position to cover the bricked-in openings. The proposed shutters will be constructed of Trex or similar wood and plastic composite product.

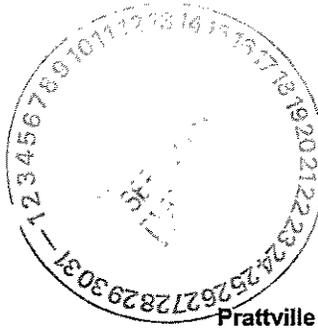

Ideally, the proposed project would seek to open the closed window openings and return windows to the facade. However, that level of renovation would require significant changes to the building's interior spaces. A 1995 interior renovation shifted the level of the main floor to point above the edge of the window openings and installed cabinetry over the rear wall.

The applicant's proposal meets the requirements of the Commission's guidelines by seeking to replace shutters that once hung beside the windows, but deviates from them by seeking to replace metal with the wood/plastic composite material. While the proposed installation in the closed position hides the bricked-in window openings, it does little to restore the visual impact of a glass window. Since the applicant is seeking to hide the bricked-in openings and create a better presentation for the rear façade, a possible solution might be installation of false windows. This can be accomplished by painting the bricks in the opening solid black, then installing window frames and panes in the openings. Such an installation will allow for the return of windows to the rear façade with no alteration to the interior of the building. In addition, the proposed shutters can be omitted rather than adding a product inconsistent with original materials and style.
