

State of Alabama Office of the Treasurer
Linked Deposit Program for Emergency Borrowers
March 2019

What is the Program?

The Linked Deposit Program is now available for qualified Alabama citizens affected by the March 3, 2019 tornado outbreak. These Emergency Borrowers are eligible to receive low-interest loans from participating banking institutions. The State Treasurer will deposit monies in participating banking institutions that will then lend these monies to Emergency Borrowers.

Can I Participate in the Program?

An Emergency Borrower is any individual, business, organization or local government that has suffered loss, and is located in areas where property loss has occurred due to fire, flood, tornado, hurricane, or other act of God, or other natural or man-made disaster. The banking institution will determine if the borrower meets the definition of an Emergency Borrower.

Loans due to losses that occurred on March 3, 2019 will be eligible to those Emergency Borrowers in the following counties: Autauga, Barbour, Bullock, Butler, Crenshaw, Geneva, Henry, Lee, Macon and Washington.

Where do I apply for the Program?

Those interested in the program should contact their bank to see if it is participating in the program and to determine if they qualify for the low-interest loan program. Alabama banks are not required to participate in this program.

Loan Guidelines

To apply for the low-interest rate, an Emergency Borrower will need to request a loan from a bank through the normal lending process. If the bank approves the loan request by the borrower, the institution will determine if the loan meets the requirements of the Program.

- Loan terms are negotiated between the borrower and bank.
- The interest rate will be set by the bank, but will not be higher than 5%.
- The loan is not transferable between borrowers.
- An Emergency Borrower is only entitled to the benefit of one loan. A borrower may not hold more than one loan for the same purpose at another bank.

How long will the Program last?

The Program will be open until December 30, 2019, or until the full amount of allocated monies, $50 million, have been deposited in Lending Institutions, whichever occurs first.
