

Proclamation

By the Mayor of Prattville, Alabama

WHEREAS, Knology is a leading provider of interactive communications and entertainment services in the Montgomery area and has served Montgomery since 1985 providing residential and business customers with one of the most technologically advanced broadband networks in the country; and

WHEREAS, Knology is an active participant in the Montgomery community and are part of about 75 events each year such as Buddy Walk, the Montgomery Zoo, Alabama Shakespeare Festival, Montgomery Ballet, Vintage Affair, and the Montgomery Biscuits; and

WHEREAS, Knology is headquartered in West Point, Georgia and has been helping their customers communicate for over 100 years; they were founded in 1896; and

WHEREAS, the Knology value system: being honest, fair and even handed. Delivering what we promise, professionally and personally. Showing courtesy, respect and friendliness. Working as a team relentlessly. Giving customer matters urgent attention. "Owning" problems and always being responsive. Being truly easy to do business with.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Bill Gillespie, Jr., Mayor of the City of Prattville, Alabama, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, September 27, 2011 as in support of their service to the Prattville area.

KNOLOGY DAY

Given Under My Hand and the Seal of the City
Prattville on the 27th day of September 2011.

Mayor Bill Gillespie, Jr.